Beach lighting debate eroding supers' patience

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Imagine a beachfront where walkers and joggers can dim or brighten overhead lights as they take their daily exercise.

The suggestion was made in jest Tuesday by Rocky Pullman, the president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, as debate

"Maybe we ought to put switches on them," Pullman joked after two women in the audience, who do not live on the beach both criticized the plans to install 250-watt high-density lights along

Allen vs. Hawkins for Bay-Waveland school bd.

Third candidate qualifies for race, drops out

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

A former Navy commander and author will square off against a former reverend of the Morning Star Missionary Baptist Church for a seat on the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Board of Trustees.

Cmdr. Robert Lloyd Allen Jr., U.S. Navy (ret.) and Rev. Leo R. Hawkins, both of Waveland, met the Friday, Jan. 18 qualification deadline for the school board seat vacated in December by Dr. Irene Koskan. Koskan announced in November that she would be leaving her post, citing the challenges of being an active wife, mother and physician.

A special election has been scheduled for March 2. Registered voters living in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District but outside Bay St. Louis' corporate limits, are eligible to vote in the race.

THE BELLS TOLL FOR THREE

An inside view of two of OLG's four clocks, which will soon be updated as part of a massive renovation project at the church.

Joseph and Hugo will soon ring again at Our Lady of the Gulf after renovation project

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church is no stranger to changes. The church burned to the ground in 1907 in a fire that destroyed several blocks in Bay St. Louis. The new structure withstood the 1947 hurricane and Hurricane Camille with only minor damage.

The renovations under way now at the church will restore several parts of the grand old building to their original use, including the clocks and the bells. Cracks in the brickwork in the two towers will be repaired, the outside of the building will be cleaned, roofs on the two towers will be replaced, and the front entranceway will get a facelift, say Charles Dickinson and Bill LeBlanc, who are spearheading the organization of the project. Eventually, new lighting will be installed inside the church, the pews will be refurbished, glazing will be replaced around windows, roofing shingles will be replaced, painting will be done, and a new heating and air conditioning system will be installed, they said.

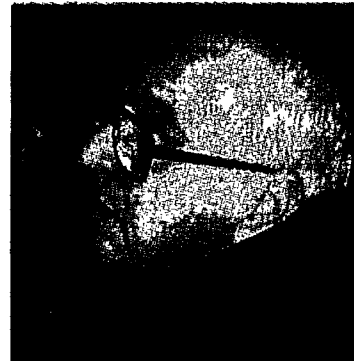

When a workman went under the building to look at the system recently, he found tools and supplies that had been left behind by a worker who had started, but never finished renovations on the system, they said. It was like he went to lunch and never came back, they said.

"A lot of people stop by and ask if we are going to tear down the towers," said LeBlanc. "The first few people we talked to advised us to take them down, but we got a structural engineer to take a look and found that the cracks were only on the surface and did not go all the way through."

Old mortar is being replaced to fix the cracks. Renovations on the bells, which were obtained from the New Orleans Cotton Exchange by Joseph Mauffray, Joseph Cazineaux and Hugo Hoffman in 1908, are scheduled to be completed by Easter, Dickinson said.

If so, the church may reenact an old tradition. The church windows will be covered on Holy Thursday and the church will be kept in semi darkness until Saturday night, when altar boys will pull down the window cloths, turn on the lights and the bells will be rung.

The renovations of the bells will be done by the original company, McShane Bell Foundry in Baltimore, MD., which is still in business. The company was even able to produce a receipt for the original bells. The bronze bells are named after the men who obtained them for the church.

Charles Dickinson

"Joseph" weighs 4,500 lbs. and "Hugo" weighs 2,100 lbs. The two bells replaced the original bells, "Joseph" and "Mary" after fire destroyed the original church.

The bells used to be rung by ropes, which were replaced by an electric motor. Now the bells will be "rung but will not swing," Dickinson said. A new mechanism will be bolted to the floor and will strike the bells. The mechanism can be programmed with the new clocks to toll differently at various times of the day, LeBlanc said.

The mechanism will arrive programmed to ring three traditional tolls: The funeral toll; the Angelus, rung traditionally at dawn, dusk and noon, to remind the faithful to pray; and the De Profundis, dating back to the middle ages, LeBlanc said, a toll in remembrance of the dead traditionally rung at 9 p.m.

The clocks will also be repaired by the original company, I.T. Verdin Company in Cincinnati, OH. The clock was originally mechanical and the original works are still in the tower, though a conversion to electricity was added to the mechanism somewhere along the way. The renovations to the four clock faces call for the works to be placed at the center of each clock. Movement of the clock will trigger the mechanism, which will strike the bells.

Our Lady of the Gulf is the oldest Catholic church in Hancock County, the third oldest on the coast and the fifth oldest parish in Mississippi. The first pastor of the church was Rev. Louis Stanislaus Buteaux, who arrived here from Paris in July, 1847. The first mass was held in the courthouse and in private homes until the church was finished in 1849.

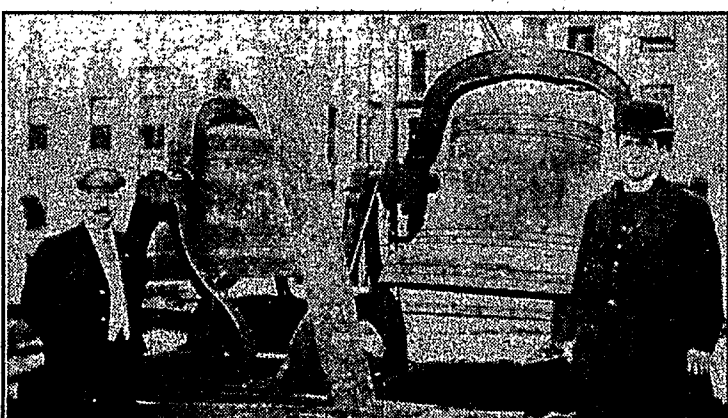

The original church was destroyed by a fire in 1907. The first mass was held in the new church in December, 1908, by its first native priest, Father John M. Prendergast.

The stained glass windows, made by Mayer and Co. in Munich, Germany for a fee of $14,000, were installed in the 1920s, as were the plaster stations. The organ was added in 1947.

The church is accepting donations for its renovation project. If you are interested in donating, please call the rectory at 467-6509.

"Hugo," the largest of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church's two bells, was named for Hugo Hoffman. Hoffman, Joseph Mauffray and Joseph Cazineaux acquired the bells for the church from the New Orleans Cotton Exchange in 1908.

Tigers' puzzle comes together; 'huge' win makes even 100 for Coach Grieves

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

We have all heard about the artist finding the one piece of the mural that makes it exquisite. Or, perhaps the mechanic that gets the stockcar to run on all cylinders.

Well, for the Bay High Tigers, it seemed to be that way on Tuesday in the Wilmer E. Seymour Gymnasium. The Lady Tigers spanked the Lady Hornets of East Central 75-22 in the first game. In the second game, the Tigers mauled Prep All-American Kenny Hooks and the rest of the Hornets 65-42.

The two games marked the final division game for both Tiger squads. The win gives the Lady Tigers (18-6) a 9-1 division record and number one seed in the upcoming division tournament while the Tigers ended division play with a 4-8 mark. The Tigers (9-14) will enter the division tournament seeded number five and will probably be matched up with East Central in the first round.

The Hornets defeated the Tigers 51-49 early in the division schedule before Tuesday night's clash.

Also, the Tigers' win marked the 100th victory in Mississippi for Bay High head coach Danny Grieves. Coach Grieves has coached in Louisiana, Illinois, and California prior to entering the Mississippi ranks.

Before coming to Bay High, Grieves mentored the Morton program after eight years of coaching in Illinois.

Grieves said, "It was a nice win for me being the 100th win in Mississippi; however, it was a huge win for our program in terms of district play. It was a defensive battle in the first period between both teams. We were getting good looks at the basket in the first period but they were just not dropping. I emphasized to the players that if we were able to keep pressure on them that things would work out. East Central made a little run to start the third period but that was the last major run for them. Our kids came out and played with a lot of intensity tonight and it showed. We were able to play numerous people. Lorenzo Lewis, a freshman, led the team in scoring. He has a lot of raw skills and his play is starting to come around. Eric Hunt and Leif Dasco had a tremendous game for us. Their speed and quickness to the ball is something that East Central was not able to imitate in practice. Our team speed, as a whole, posed some problems for East Central. Javon Williams had a nice game down low for us. Michael Simpkins, Michael Singleton, Zack Nichols, Johnny Hozey and others all played with great fire tonight. We are starting to come together as a team. The players are beginning to understand each other and now we can play eight or nine deep into the bench. That is a positive for us at this stage of the season."

Bay High ended a slow first period with a narrow 7-6 lead. In the second period, the Tigers' pressure began to wear down the Hornets as they jumped out to a 29-22 lead by intermission. The Tigers ended the second period with an 8-1 run.

The Hornets came back at the start of the third period with a 9-2 run and tied the score at 31-31. The Tigers called a time out and gathered their thoughts. Then, they completed the masterpiece that they set out to create two periods earlier.

The Tigers were up 48-36 by the end of the third and cruised in the final period to the win. Lorenzo Lewis scored 27 points to lead Bay High followed by Eric Hunt's 10 points. The Tigers held the Hornets' All-American Kenny Hooks to just 10 points.

Since that was the last division game for the Tigers, Bay High ends the season with four non-division opponents in Stone County, Picayune, Biloxi, and Poplarville. These final four games will give the Tigers an opportunity to hone their game before heading into the division tournament which will be held in Gautier February 11-15.

The Tigers will also play in Hoops Fest 2002 in the Mississippi Coast Coliseum on Saturday, February 2. Hoops Fest is an all-day basketball matchup of some of the Coast's best boys basketball teams. Bay High will play D'Iberville in the first game of the day at 11 a.m.

St. Stanislaus and Pass Christian will also play in the annual classic. Bay High has tickets for the event for $4 which is a savings of $2 at the door.

For more information on ticket purchases, call Coach Grieves at Bay High School.

The Lady Tigers routed the Lady Hornets 75-22 in the first game of the night. The Lady Tigers used relentless defense in the win which allowed East Central just two points in the second period.

The Lady Tigers opened up an 18-5 first period that quickly grew into a 34-7 half-time lead. Carmen Labat led the Lady Tigers with 16 points and six rebounds. Stephanie Reed scored 12 points, all on three-pointers, and tallied four steals. Kendra Reed grabbed six rebounds to tie for the team lead. Shaunon Willis came off the bench for the Lady Tigers and made some stellar plays recording six steals and four assists.

Lady Tiger head coach Debbie Triplett commented, "The team played with great intensity. Everyone was able to log a lot of minutes. Our young players got some game experience tonight which will prove valuable for us down the road. Now, we have to keep this momentum going as we play these final four non-division games and prepare for the division tournament. These next four games will help us gauge ourselves against Division 7 opponents which is who we are matched up with."

Hancock golf team to sponsor tournament

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Hancock Hawks golf team is sponsoring the 1st annual Hancock High School Golf Team Benefit Golf Tournament on Jan. 26. It is a four-person scramble golf tournament with a modified handicap that will be held at the Diamondhead Pine course.

A shotgun start will commence at 8 a.m. The entry fee is $22 for Diamondhead golf members with paid annual dues and $37 for all others. The entry fee includes 18 holes of golf, one bucket of range balls, and a grilled hamburger lunch.

There are prizes to be given away that total over $2000.

Hancock High School golf coach, Keene Golding, stated, "This is our first fundraising tournament and we would like to thank Diamondhead and golf pro Hoppy Smith for all that they do for the Hancock golf team."

"The purpose of this fundraiser is to provide team uniform shirts and hats for the members of the Hancock High golf team. Also, we will use the proceeds from this tournament to provide letterman jackets for the varsity players who have completed the requirements for the award."

Golding played on the school's very first golf team back in 1983-84 and is now the head coach at his alma mater. Golding also teaches physics I and II and aerospace at the 5A school.

Golding continued, "We have a solid nucleus of players returning and we are excited about playing in the new division format. We only lost one senior from last year's team. Brent Allison, Bryce Cairnes, Joe Munger, Justin Webb, and Cody Owens have returned to help lead the team in 2002."

For more information on the golf tournament, call the Diamondhead Pro Shop at 228-255-3910.

Diamondhead Women's Golf tournament winners

Forty-five ladies of the Diamondhead Women's Golf Association took advantage of the good weather Jan. 17 to play in a low gross, low net competition at Diamondhead Country Club.

In the first flight, Christel Fritzching won first low gross, and Betty Daniels, second.

Marsha Heitkamp took first place in the low net division, followed by Sue Hebert, second.

Til Garrison captured first low gross in the second flight, and Becky Ross was second. Dee Chamberlin won low net with a 69, with Marie Clark taking second place.

Flight three had Rose Stackhouse as low gross winner and Barbara Watkins in second place.

Margaret Hill had first low net score, beating out Kitty Gregoire by one stroke.

Sea Wolves falter in OT, Rocks earn 20th win on the hardwood

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

With the end of January drawing near, that means the high school basketball and soccer seasons will be drawing to a close with the division tournaments and state playoffs right around the corner.

The hockey season is in full swing with the Mississippi Sea Wolves. And, the spring sports such as baseball, tennis, track and field, and golf are gearing up for their season openers.

On Sunday, the Mississippi Sea Wolves returned from a road trip to Columbus, Georgia. The Sea Wolves split a pair of games with the Cottonmouths in Southern Conference action. Mississippi won Friday by the score of 3-2 in overtime while they lost a 2-1 game with the Cottonmouths on Saturday.

The Sea Wolves pulled into to town around 2:30 a.m. on Sunday and got some rest before hosting the New Orleans Brass on Sunday evening in the Wolves Den.

Mississippi jumped out to a 2-1 first period lead for the 3,911 fans in attendance behind goals from Jim Baxter and Steffan Walby.

It took just :29 into the start of the game for the Sea Wolves to strike. Baxter netted a slap shot on an assist from Walby and Brent Gauvreaux.

The Brass tied the game with 18:29 left to play in the opening period on a goal by Alex Johnstone.

Walby netted his 22nd goal of the season after a missed rebound by a Louisiana player with 17:20 left in the first period. Gauvreaux and Baxter were credited with the assist.

The Sea Wolves made it a 3-1 game with 15:58 left in the second period when Gauvreaux took his own rebound and skated into the crease and lit the lamp on a power play.

Viktor Kubenko made it a 3-2 game with 2:09 left in the middle period when he skated past Mississippi defenders and scored on the wrist shot.

Louisiana tied the game at 3-3 when Shawn Peach scored with 19:25 remaining in regulation.

The final seven minutes was a physical game for both teams as several scuffles broke out.

When neither team produced a winning goal in the waning minutes, the game went into overtime. In the extra period, neither team made any real threats to score which forced a shoot-out.

The Brass connected on four-of-five shots to win by one 4-3 in the shoot-out. The loss dropped the Sea Wolves to 22-21 on the season. Mississippi's next home game is scheduled for Friday, January 25 against the Arkansas RiverBlades in the Wolves Den.

In high school basketball action during the past week-end, the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws gained their 20th win of the season against four defeats with a 56-41 win over Forest County Agricultural High School in the FCAHS Invitational tournament on Saturday, Jan. 19.

The Rocks defeated Lumberton to advance to the championship game. Darius Acker led SSC in the title game with 21 points.

The Bay High girls soccer team lost a 3-2 overtime decision in high school soccer to the Picayune Lady Maroon Tide.

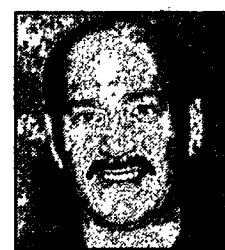

Jennifer Hearty and Katie Fillingame each scored for the Lady Tigers (6-3). Sky Thomas was credited with both assists in the game.

Bay, SSC, & Pass selected for 8th annual Hoops Fest

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The high school basketball season would not be complete without the annual Hoops Fest in the Mississippi Coast Coliseum. On Saturday, Feb. 2, the 8th annual Hoops Fest 2002 will be played.

The annual classic features three local teams, as well as, other standout teams from along the Mississippi Gulf Coast in the seven-game lineup.

The Bay High Tigers (9-14) will tangle with the D'Iberville Warriors at 11 a.m. The streaking Ocean Springs Greyhounds will do battle with the Long Beach Bearcats at 12:30 p.m.

The 2 p.m. game matches the former Class 4A state champion Stone County Tomcats against the East Central Hornets and Prep All-American Kenny Hooks followed by the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (20-4) against Catholic school rival St. John Eagles at 3:30 p.m.

The Harrison Central Red Rebels take the court at 5 p.m. against the Pass Christian Pirates (18-4). The 6:30 p.m. marquee matchup between undefeated and top-ranked Gulfport Admirals and defending Class 5A state champion Biloxi Indians is sure to be a crowd pleaser. The final game of the night pits the Gautier Gators against the Pascagoula Panthers.

For more information on tickets, call one of the schools involved in the classic or the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center in Biloxi.
